Highlights

Board Engagement

- Gap Inc. directors must make a significant time commitment when they join our board. The full board meets six times per year. In addition, board members often work on board matters and with management outside of formal meetings.
- Board members who are full-time employees of other companies should not serve on more than three public company boards at one time, and directors who are retired from full-time employment should not serve on more than four public company boards.
- All board members are expected to complete a formal onboarding program within six months of joining.

Board Quality

- Gap Inc. is committed to maintaining an active, engaged board. Qualified candidates for the board are interviewed by the Chairman, CEO, at least two independent directors and members of management, as appropriate.
- The Governance and Sustainability Committee is responsible for the review and assessment of the composition and overall performance of the board and each director. As part of this process, each board member must participate in and complete an annual performance evaluation, including individual peer assessments.

Board Independence

- A majority of Gap Inc.'s board members are independent of the company and its management, and we are committed to maintaining at least two-thirds of independent directors. Currently, our board has 12 directors and has determined that 10 are independent under NYSE rules.
- At every board meeting, time is set aside for the non-management or independent directors to meet in executive session.

Board Committees

- Only independent directors sit on Gap Inc.'s three board committees

Audit Firm Lead Partner Rotation

- Gap Inc. rotates the lead partner of its independent registered public auditor, Deloitte & Touche, so that he or she will not perform audit services for more than five consecutive fiscal years. A new lead partner assumed audit responsibility during the first quarter of 2020.

Shareholder Authority

- At any meeting of the shareholders at which a director is not elected, that director shall submit to the board an offer letter of resignation, subject to board acceptance. The Governance and Sustainability Committee will consider the offer of resignation. The board shall act promptly with respect to each such letter of resignation. The board's decision would be disclosed publicly.

Gap Inc. does not have a classified board; directors are elected annually.

- Shareholders can act by written consent; holders of 10 percent of Gap Inc. shares can call special meetings of the shareholders.

Hedging Policy

- Board members and Company insiders are prohibited from hedging and engaging in publicly traded option transactions in Company stock.

Pledging Policy

- Board members and Company insiders are prohibited from holding Company stock in a margin account as collateral for a margin loan or otherwise pledging Company stock as collateral.
